Faith. Faith and prayer. It was my 51st birthday when I received a diagnosis of stage IV lung cancer with metastases to the brain. I prayed endlessly for strength. About 2 weeks later I was given "The Relic" and told to pray to St Camilla. That she would hear my intentions. I was familiar with her story. Her devotion inspired me. I took "The Relic" into my home. I blessed myself every day with the healing oil of St Camilla and asked for intercession.

I immediately started brain radiation for the 14 tumors, followed by intense chemo and immuno therapy to rid my lungs of cancer in addition to anti-seizure meds and other oral meds. Feeling sick and defeated was an understatement. Through prayer and "talking" to St Camilla as well as our gracious Lord, I had the strength and courage to push through. I lost my hair, lost weight, and had very little energy. But I was determined to live. I still had more life to enjoy, family to be with.

I questioned all the "whys" and "what ifs", but praying and asking for her intercession gave me the strength and faith to keep going. She was with me through every treatment. I always had her prayer card with me as well as my mother's. A little over a year later I'm in remission. Brain is clear, lungs are clear. All my scans are clear. I keep her prayer card with me everywhere I go. She is my Saint of healing and miracles.

Forever grateful,
